

CROW CANDIDATES ARE EASY WINNERS.

Cooper Slate Smashed to Smithereens by Republican Voters.

DAVIS ONLY SURE VICTOR

"Sunny" Jim Barnhart is Leading Love by Narrow Margin for Poor Director and Outcome in Doubt. Commissioner Nominees Crow Men.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Oct. 2.—The figures on the Republican primary in Fayette on Saturday night indicate that there is only one real fight in the county and that is for Poor Director. W. P. Jackson is undoubtedly nominated but there is a close contest between Thomas Love and James J. Barnhart. The vote of 31 districts shows Barnhart leading by 18 votes.

The 31 districts show Shelby about 2,500 ahead of Patterson, with Klinger leading Rush by 2,100. Davis has about 990 over Donegan. Langley and Nitt are leading for Commissioner, Blinn being 100 behind the former and 60 back of Nitt. Klinger and McClelland are leading their opponents by about 500.

At noon George A. McCormick had a lead of about 50 votes over S. E. Frick.

The Crow ticket made practically a clean sweep in Fayette county at the Republican primaries Saturday. There was only one candidate on the list who at noon today was undoubtedly defeated, Thomas V. Donegan of Uniontown. The returns indicate he has been defeated by Richard Davis of Brownsville and Everson. Comrade James J. Barnhart of Dunbar township is the only other Cooper candidate who seems to have a chance and he is leading Thomas Love of Everson by only a close margin.

For Sheriff, Prothonotary, County Treasurer, District Attorney, Register of Wills, Recorder of Deeds, County Controller, Coroner and County Commissioners the Crow candidates were successful by majorities ranging from 700 to 2,500. Davis, the only Cooper candidate certain of nomination, is leading Donegan by approximately 1,000. W. P. Jackson led the candidates for Poor House Director but Barnhart is a shade in the lead of Love of Everson.

S. Ray Shelby made a remarkable run against George Patterson for District Attorney. Districts that went for a majority of the Cooper candidates in a number of instances gave Shelby a majority. Shelby is winning by almost a 2 to 1 vote. The outcome of this contest was not a surprise as even the Patterson adherents admitted a week ago his chances were rapidly diminishing.

The surprise of the primary was the big vote polled by Harry Klinger for Controller. It is an open secret that many Crow leaders expected Rush to make a hard fight but it happened he was one of the easiest men on the Cooper slate to defeat. Klinger will have probably 2,000 votes more than Rush when the official vote is canvassed.

The Connellville candidates were uniformly unfortunate. All except one of them were aligned with the Cooper faction. J. Fred Kurtz made the best run and will probably lose to McClelland by less than 500 votes. Kurtz's good vote was due more to his own energetic campaign than to any assistance given him by the Cooper leaders. George W. Campbell was badly beaten by Charles O. Schroyer for Register of Wills and Dr. C. W. Utts did no better against Dr. H. J. Bell for Coroner. Thomas V. Donegan's defeat was largely due to the fact that his opponent, Richard Davis, was better known throughout the county. Donegan and Kurtz gained their first experience in practical politics at this election.

The vote through the country districts continued many surprises and in a number of instances the rival organizations divided honors. Over at Everson the entire Cooper slate went through by a nice vote with the exception of Thomas Love, who was high man there for Poor Director.

In Brownsville and South Brownsville the Crow ticket won handsily, except for Clerk of Courts. Davis polled a big vote in both towns.

At Vanderhill the vote was split. The Crow candidates carrying that borough were Shelby, Frick and Schroyer. Commissioners and Poor Directors divided honors. Blinn and Nitt and Barnhart and Jackson got the highest vote.

McClelland by one. Ohiopyle went partly for the Cooper ticket but Frick, Shelby, Schroyer, Langley, Nitt, Jackson and Love carried the borough.

Dunbar turned out a good vote for Shelby, Klinger, Langley, Nitt, Barnhart and Frick. Klinger gave Rush a bad beating there. Kiefer led Howard by only two votes.

Davis gave the entire Crow ticket a big vote. Walker received a high complimentary vote for Poor Director. Uniontown went solid for the entire Crow ticket except for Clerk of Courts. Davis defeating Donegan by 132 votes. Kiefer carried that borough by 71. McClelland had 200 over Kurtz. Frick led Rathmell by 403. Shelby defeated Patterson by 537. Schroyer had 721 over Campbell. Steel led Titterton by only 35. Klinger received 315 more votes than Rush. Langley and Nitt led Blinn and Blinn's white Jackson and Love had the best of Barnhart and Stewart.

The Cooper people are said to have invested liberally in South Connellville and the county vote there indicates it. The entire Cooper ticket was in that town except for Register of Wills. Schroyer leading Campbell. This was the only crack in the Cooper slate. The vote was close though considering the money put in it. Kurtz led all the candidates, receiving 116 votes there.

Joseph H. Donnelly of Connellville ran well through the county. He had no opposition in the Democratic party for the nomination for Prothonotary and received practically the full vote of the party. In Connellville he received a total of 705 votes and was high man on the ticket here.

Turkey Hears of Big Naval Victory

United Press Telegram. CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—Turkey was cheered over the report of the sinking of two Italian cruisers near Smyrna. Owing to the difficulty for the Sultan securing a new cabinet it is possible that a Dictatorship will be established with War Minister Cebeski-Pasha at the head.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The fate of the Turkish fleet is doubtful. The Home correspondence stick to their story that the Italian squadron has practically destroyed its opponents at the western entrance of the Dardanelles. Main reports that the Mohammedans are marching on Tripoli. An unconfirmed report that Italians are being massacred at Dehagazi.

Excursion Train Struck a Rock

The Cumberland excursion train was delayed four hours at Marble Hill last evening when the engine struck a rock about 8.15. The trucks of the locomotive were derailed and steps knocked off the cars, but no other damage was done. No one was injured.

The train was hauled by engine No. 1113, with Engineer George Carothers at the throttle. Conductor J. A. Mullen was in charge. Miss Beale McGill of Connellville and Miss Nan Thomas of Scottsdale were passengers on the train.

Trains Nos. 9 and 10 were detained by way of Fairmont.

Admiral Schley Dropped Dead

NEW YORK, October 2.—Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, retired, dropped dead today of heart failure on Forty-fourth street. He had been in apparent good health and his death came as a shock to his friends.

Admiral Schley was a native of Frederick, Md. He served in both the Civil and Spanish-American wars. During the Spanish war he commanded the "Flying Squadron" and was in command of the fleet which vanquished Admiral Cervera.

High Water Wrecks Steamer

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—The high water broke the mooring of the steamer Fred Hudson and two sand diggers above here on the Allegheny river today. The Hudson was wrecked at Sprague's dam and the sand diggers at the West Penn railroad bridge.

The river was rising, but a flood stage is not anticipated, according to Foremaster Pennywit.

Medico Meeting. The regular monthly meeting of the Young Medical Social Club will be held Thursday evening at the home of Dr. C. W. Utts on Main street, West Side.

Train Hits Girl at Bad Crossing

DUNBAR, Oct. 2.—Another serious accident occurred here on Saturday evening about 6:30 when the Baltimore & Ohio local freight train hit Miss Anna Miller at the point on the road known as "McGee's Crossing." Miss Miller, who resides on Franklin Road near the Catholic church, was on her way to Dunbar and knowing that it was time for the train to arrive she came down on the east bound track.

Miss Miller heard the train coming and attempting from one track to the other the engine hit her, knocking her several feet. The young lady was picked up by several bystanders and removed to a house nearby where Dr. Gule was called and found that she was hurt internally and sustained a bad gash on the head. Dr. Gule had her removed to the Cottage State hospital in Connellville where it was found that no bones were broken, but she was badly hurt internally. At present she is resting calmly.

It was at this crossing that J. M. Poetz, father of Rev. C. J. Poetz, pastor of the St. Aloysius church, met his death about four months ago, and is one of the dangerous railroad crossings in this vicinity.

WOMEN CANDIDATES MADE GOOD CHASE.

They Lost Out for School Director But Received Generous Vote.

BERNARD O'CONNOR BEATEN

W. J. Hicks Also Failed to Receive Enough Votes to Get Nomination. Desmons Dropped by Democrats. Balsey is Vindicated.

The greatest confusion existed in marking the ballots for School Director Saturday and probably 20 per cent. of the votes cast were thrown out because of inaccuracies in the marking. The names were printed alphabetically on the ballots irrespective of the terms. The names should have been arranged by terms. The result was that many voters became confused, voted for three candidates for the four year term instead of two, and made other mistakes that forced the election boards to reject the votes for those candidates.

Because of the complicated condition of the School Director ticket, the ward workers in many instances ignored those candidates altogether when marking ballots and this also accounts for the fact that the School Directors ran behind the rest of the ticket.

There are quite a few Suffragists in Connellville. Although neither of the women candidates was nominated, they polled a healthy vote. Dr. Katharine Wakofeld received 363 and Miss Frances Reed 278. Dr. Wakofeld carried the Seventh Ward. Under different conditions the vote would have been much larger.

"Inaugural" Charles H. Balsey was second man on the Republican ticket for School Director despite the fact that he had opposition. This was a vindication of Balsey's advanced stand for better management of the board's affairs. It is significant that Bert J. Thomas, the only out-and-out "organization" candidate, got the lowest vote of the Democrats seeking the three-year term, although he had no opposition. A. W. Bishop led the Republican candidates, with Balsey second and W. W. Smith a close third.

Attorney F. E. Yonkin polled a good vote and, with C. W. Hays, will be the Republican nominees for the four year term. Balsey, J. R. Davidson and Lloyd Shaw are the six year term nominees. Bishop and Smith had no opposition for the short service.

John J. Buttermore led all the Democratic candidates for School Director. Buttermore is a staunch Democrat, who is for the first time serving in public office. He has been on the board for a little more than a year and is numbered among the progressives without being radical. Dr. H. C. Hoffman and William P. Sullivan were nominated by the Democrats for the four year term. Salvatore Desmons losing out. He was the only man on that ticket who failed to land. T. H. Hazen and B. H. Miller had no opposition for the two year term.

Had Eye Injured. Steve Trone of Leabersburg No. 1 was admitted to the Cottage State hospital for treatment of an injured eye. While cutting wood a small piece of wood entered the right eye. As yet the physician is unable to determine how badly the injury will effect the sight.

COOPER MEN LOSE THIS CITY.

Donegan Led the Ticket With More Than 500 Votes Over Davis.

KURTZ AND UTTS ALSO LEAD

Only Cooper Men to Win Were "Native Sons"—Klinger and Shelby Got Big Vote—Frick and Robinson Headed Democrats.

Despite the resort to tactics that were a most flagrant abuse of the election laws and an attack upon the integrity of the ballot, the outrageous interpretation of the intent and letter of the Uniform Primary Act, and the injection of booze and boodle into the campaign at the eleventh hour, the Cooper line-up was so badly mangled by the Connellville voters Saturday that it could not be recognized by its closest friends. The success of the Crow ticket throughout the county was as pronounced as it was in Connellville and practically the only Cooper men who carried the city were natives of the vicinity.

Probably never in the history of the borough has there been a more flagrant abuse of the election laws than was witnessed in the Sixth ward. Dozens of self-respecting citizens appeared at the polls only to turn away in disgust and contempt. The negro element in the Sixth is very large and it is commonly reported to be largely purchasable. Certain it is that the Afro-American citizens outnumbered the white people around the polls. Foreigners from Trotter and surrounding cokes towns are said to have been imported and voted with impunity. One man was permitted to vote who was so badly intoxicated that he had to be supported by a companion on each side, one of whom held up the voter's hand as he took the oath. He indicated that he needed assistance and it was quite apparent that he did. As soon as the man had voted, he was arrested for intoxication and hustled off to the lockup.

In the Seventh Ward the election was more orderly. Several structural ironworkers, who came here a few weeks ago to erect the treaties for the Western Maryland, attempted to take the oath as to taxes and residences, and were permitted to cast their ballots. It is currently reported that arrests will follow the outrageous conduct of the election in the Sixth ward and interesting developments will follow if such is the case. The vote in Connellville was not large in spite of some of the inducements offered the compliant class. The city as yet by courtesy has over 2,000 voters and but 1,600 of them took enough interest in this primary to vote. The Republicans polled about 1,200 and the Democrats but 400. If the non-purchasable element had voted the Crow ticket would have had a bigger majority, and Kurtz and Donegan would have had their vote materially added to. The voting was slow because of the length of the tickets. There was much confusion over the selection for School Director because of the clumsy manner in which the names had been placed on both tickets. Scores of voters for School Directors were thrown out because of improper markings. All of the candidates suffered on this account and it is not known whether the result would have altered had the ballots been properly marked.

The only Cooper candidates fortunate enough to carry the town were J. Fred Kurtz, Dr. C. W. Utts, William H. Blinn and James J. Barnhart. Only Blinn's big vote can be attributed to the Cooper workers. The Sixth Ward vote put him slightly ahead of Langley. Secretary Kurtz of the Chamber of Commerce made a grand run, due largely to his personal popularity in the home town. He carried every ward. Dr. Utts also carried his home town by a nice majority. George W. Campbell, Cooper candidate, failed to carry his own ward and lost the town by 130.

Thomas V. Donegan, one of the most popular men on either ticket, made a great record, leading the candidates in town. He polled 381 votes, 32 more than were cast for James B. Hays, the unopposed candidate for County Surveyor. Donegan swept every ward in the town and came out 529 votes ahead of his opponent. But for the strenuous work of the Cooper faction on the West Side he would have run probably 600 votes ahead of Hazen and B. H. Miller had no opposition for the two year term.

There wasn't a strenuous fight over election officers save in the Third ward where the Cooper people tried in vain to defeat Fred D. Munson for inspector. Munson won out over believed Kiefer would win the nomination hands down.

The woeful failure of Logan Rush to poll a good vote against Harry Klinger here in Connellville was one of the surprises of the primary. It was generally contended up to Saturday that Rush would probably lead the Cooper ticket and there were many who had a hunch he might beat the Brownsville man. Klinger led him by more than 150 votes here, and had to make up 63 votes which he lacked in the Sixth Ward to do it. Rush carried the West Side but was snowed under in the five wards on the east side of the river.

George Patterson failed to develop strength, but this was not unexpected. Shelby swept all the wards on the east side of the river and took the lead by 255. Langley led the field for County Commissioner with 517, Blinn being second with 522. Blinn's third with 477 and Nitt fourth with 428. Barnhart led the multitudinous candidates for Poor House Director with 587. "Tommy" Love of Everson coming a close second with 572 and W. P. Jackson third with 512.

Captain W. S. Craft went out of Connellville with 262 votes more than Rathmell, his nearest opponent, who was only 30 votes ahead of Freeman P. Elcher.

Interest in the Democratic county ticket was centered on John M. Robinson. The popular Connellville man led by over 173 votes over his nearest

JUSTICE OF PEACE WAS NOMINATED.

R. S. Coll' Received 96 Votes to 1 for W. P. Clark in First.

CONSTABLES HAD A BATTLE

Rottler and Geiger Each Whipped the Other in Second—Election Board Battle in Third Lost by Cooperites. Fourth was Lively.

The campaign for borough and ward officers was almost devoid of interest except in isolated instances. In the first ward the voters nominated a Justice of the Peace, Raymond S. Coll was nominated, receiving 96 votes. Squire W. P. Clark, it is said, was aware that his term would shortly expire and planned a coup which was anticipated. Squire Clark had "stickers" printed and is believed to have only attempted to have one placed on the ballot in each ward. The first was the only ward where the "stickers" got as far as the return sheet. The vote was 95 to 1 in favor of Coll. In the second ward the board rejected the votes for Justice of the Peace. The Democrats have no nominee.

For High Constable Barthold Rottler was nominated on both tickets. He did not get the papers for the Republican nomination but received 28 votes against 27 which were divided among a number of other candidates. Rottler received 190 votes on the Democratic ticket against five scattering votes. The third ward sheet did not contain a return for this office.

The vote for Auditor was very small, a few "stickers" being voted. Ralph K. Long won the Democratic nomination, receiving eight votes out of the 23 that were cast. J. D. Sullivan got four votes, J. B. Stader and H. E. Schenck two each, while J. D. Donnelly, J. C. Whitley, J. D. Lambert, T. C. Edmonds, H. C. Nelson, J. W. Newirth and J. D. Leroel received one each. For the Republican nomination J. C. Whitley was given two votes and J. C. Long, J. C. Munson and J. D. Lambert one each.

For Constable J. W. Mitchell was an easy winner in the First ward, getting 174 votes to 44 for C. W. Ed. J. R. Reatty was nominated by the Democrats. In the Second ward Henry Geiger defeated B. Rottler 116 to 15 for the Republican nomination while Rottler handed it to Geiger 66 to 5 on the Democratic ticket. There was a contest on both tickets in the third. For the Republicans George Garces polled 105 to 61 for John Gibbons. J. W. Howard was nominated by the Republicans in the Fourth over L. E. Nicholson, 39 to 19. J. B. Sloaner took J. T. Crossland over 45 to 19. In the Fifth it was all 3. E. Stillwagon, who received 119 Republican and 17 Democratic votes. In the Sixth ward R. A. Smith defeated John Hays 90 to 63 for the Republican nomination while each received one vote on the Democratic ticket. In the seventh Joseph O'Dayon defeated P. D. Shoemaker on both tickets, 90 to 63 Republican and 3 to 1 Democratic.

There wasn't a strenuous fight over election officers save in the Third ward where the Cooper people tried in vain to defeat Fred D. Munson for inspector. Munson won out over

Andrew George, 100 to 67. The Democratic organization is reported to have had more than a passive interest in this fight and the outcome is a fair test of strength in the "Brooklyn Third." W. E. Noland was nominated judge in the Second on the Republican ticket but M. J. King beat him by 18 votes on the other ticket. Detemple was nominated minority inspector over Friel and Mullin. In the Fourth Christian defeated Yonkin for Republican judge and Blackburn took Gilmore over by a close vote for Inspector. There was no contest in either the First or Fifth and none worthy of the name in the Sixth or Seventh save between Nichol and Wagonman for Republican Inspector in the latter ward. Nichol won. For Judge in the Seventh on the Democratic ticket R. K. Long and P. M. Buttermore received one vote each.

Shields Wins Out in Westmoreland

Special to The Courier.

GRINSBURG, Oct. 2.—Returns from Saturday's primaries up to noon today indicate that Sheriff John E. Shields has been elected County Commissioner by an overwhelming vote. The Shields fight overshadowed every other contest. W. Dick Reamer will probably be the other nominee at J. G. McGarry is running close. The vote in 18 out of the 183 districts in the county give Shields 3,180, Reamer 2,956 and McGarry 2,872.

Benjamin H. Boyd of Scottsdale has been elected County Treasurer and John S. Sell is leading George A. Hunter for Controller. H. A. McMurray has a good lead over C. A. Wynn and James Harkins for Coroner.

Indications point to the nomination of Ben Steele for Sheriff. Dr. L. P. Thomas is leading for Recorder of Deeds.

Sheriff Shields was recently convicted for misappropriating funds and made his campaign for Commissioner to be vindicated by the voters of the county. The vote indicates he was—and then some.

Dedication of New Cemetery

The dedication of the new Polish cemetery at Poplar Grove yesterday was attended by hundreds of foreigners from all over the coke region. The new cemetery will be known as the Holy Trinity Polish cemetery. The exercises were appropriate and were in charge of Rev. J. Gorzynski of Pittsburgh. Sermons were delivered in Polish, Slavish and English.

At 11 o'clock a parade formed at Seventh street, West Side, near 500 being in line. The parade, which was headed by a Polish band, proceeded from Seventh street to Pittsburgh street and from there to the cemetery. The event was an important one in the church and the congregation was well represented.

Exoneration for Postmaster Kurtz

In the heat of a campaign many things are said which are not entirely just. Postmaster Kurtz was accused of "holding up" ex-Postmaster Collins for half his salary. The story was denied by Collins, who stated that he advanced the salary of the then Assistant Postmaster voluntarily.

Certain documentary evidence has since been submitted to The Courier corroborating this statement and completely exonerating Postmaster Kurtz from the charge of extortion. In justice to the latter, we take pleasure in making the fact known.

A CLOSE CONTEST FOR JUDGESHIP.

Both J. A. Berkey and W. H. Ruppel Claim Victory

IN SOMERSET COUNTY FIGHT

Berkey Claims to Be 108 Votes Ahead and Ruppel Claims He Has Won Over Berkey by 67 Votes—Official Count Will Decide.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, Pa., Oct. 2.—Both J. A. Berkey and William H. Ruppel claim the Republican nomination in Somerset county. All districts in the county have been heard from but it will likely require the official figures to decide who has won the nomination. There is then possibility of a contest. This was stated by men identified with both sides this morning. At 10 o'clock this morning with figures in for all districts in the county, the Berkey side claim the nomination by 108 votes. The Ruppel supporters claim he has been nominated over Mr. Berkey on the Republican ticket by 67 votes. Figures obtained by The Courier correspondent show Ruppel leading Berkey by 49 votes. Mr. Ruppel is also the nominee on the Democratic and Prohibition tickets.

On the county ticket the following were nominated: John G. Emert, Recorder of Deeds; Charles Hochard, Sheriff; Aaron Heiple, Prothonotary; Bert F. Landis, Register of Wills; F. A. Harrah, Clerk of Courts; Alexander Markle, County Treasurer; Virgil R. Saylor, District Attorney.

There is some doubt about the County Commissioners in which there was a close fight. Jacob Koonitz is the high man with Edward Hoover and C. C. Heckle following. Eight thousand Republican votes were cast yesterday in the county.

The unofficial vote for Judge taken from returns brought here this morning and received from outlying districts last night is as follows:

"Men and Religion Forward Movement" was discussed last evening at the First Baptist church. Following the opening of the service, the boys and men of the congregation addressed to the church chapel where Rev. E. A. E. Palmquist, the pastor spoke on the subject. The women of the congregation were addressed on the subject by Mrs. Palmquist.

The congregation was unusually large and displayed great interest in the movement.

Goes Farther, Costs Less, than Soap

For general household cleaning, soap in powder form is more economical and efficient than in the bar. Gold Dust, one of the first powders—and still the best—can be used more economically than soap, because the quantity desired can be measured out and no more used. In using soap in the cake there is waste, more being used than is really needed; the rest of the cake is water-soaked, causing the soap to lose its goodness. Moreover, Gold Dust contains other ingredients, which soften the hardest water and allow the soap to do its work with little rubbing.

Borough Ticket at
S. Conneltsville

The electors of South Conneltsville nominated a full list of borough officers Saturday. There are three tickets in the field. Republican, Democrat and Socialist.

For Burgess the Republicans nominated William Slesky, the Democrats choose Harry Adams and the Socialists Samuel Lee. Interest in the election was keen and the contest warm, particularly among the Republicans.

Governor Tener
Will Investigate

United Press Telegram.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 2.—Governor Tener returned today from Pittsburgh and conferred with members of the Water Commission. He declared he was not sure whether there is any law governing the construction of big dams near towns or villages, when asked regarding an investigation and possible prosecution of parties alleged to be responsible for the Austin disaster.

"If there is no law," the Governor declared, "I will have such a law introduced in the Legislature."
He is in constant communication with Austin. "We will not accept aid from any other State," the Governor continued. "The Department offices are equal to the relief work. We have a regiment of tents, and many neighboring school houses and other places of shelter for the homeless and the State is providing food. Regarding public contributions for the benefit of the homeless, that of course is a matter resting with the people."

Why is the soda
a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

To-day there is a soda cracker which is the recognized staple — Uneeda Biscuit.

Uneeda Biscuit are the most nutritious food made from flour and should be eaten every day by every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package.

Matter and Force.
There is no such thing as a loss of matter or force. The so called "conservation" of matter and its force was demonstrated years ago by Joule and other scientists. When, for instance, a thing "burns up," as we say, the substances that give out the light and heat are changed, not destroyed. The wood or whatever the substance happens to be becomes ashes and gas, and if we could gather up all the products of the burning we should find that they had not lost a particle of their weight and that the form of them only was changed. The eternity of matter was a teaching of the old Greek philosophers, or of some of them at least, and the modern teaching of the conservation or indestructibility of the stuff of the universe would seem to corroborate the ancient idea.—New York American.

Woman's World

Mr. Edward McLean's interest in Gems Scientific.

MRS. EDWARD B. McLEAN.

Mrs. Edward B. McLean, who recently acquired the famous Hope diamond, is said to have a greater interest in gems and metals from a scientific viewpoint than from a woman's usual liking for adornment. She is said to have almost as keen an insight into mining as her father, Thomas B. Walsh, had. With him she often made journeys to the mines in Colorado and other places and often advised him. After he established a fund for the Colorado School of Mines she gave money to the school for the payment of the tuition of students without means. Mrs. McLean is interested greatly in philanthropic work.

A New Business for Women.

"There are all kinds of ways of making a living," said a woman dweller in a New York apartment house to her neighbor across the hall. "For instance, yesterday morning my front door bell rang, and I opened it to find facing me a smartly groomed, pretty young woman, who immediately inquired whether I was Mrs. A. Smith. Having been satisfied as to the identity, she handed me a visiting card with this superscription:

"To what," said a girlhood friend from Providence, "do you attribute, Miss Peck, your success as a mountaineer?"

"Simply to perseverance, to assiduity," the other answered. "That is the secret of all success. A great department store keeper put the idea, though, more neatly than I have done. At a breakfast dinner he said:

"I attribute my success to the fact that, if a customer doesn't see what she wants, I've always made her wait what she does."

"Thought it was cheese."

The serious minded girl at the summer hotel had just got acquainted with the latest male arrival. Instead of talking about something interesting, she tried to draw him into a discussion on ethics. He listened gravely while she discussed Schopenhauer and Kant. Finally she asked, "Do you agree with Spinoza?"

He brightened up at that.

"It's a funny way to put it," he laughed. "I suppose you mean does Spinoza agree with me. No, I can't say it does. Those imported cheeses make me sick, but I'm fond of York state. Do you like deviled crabs?"—Boston Traveler.

Helping Backward Children.

Many mothers would be perfectly willing to help their children with their school work if they only knew how.

If a child is slow to read and spell it will help to say, "Shut the door."

"Get me a book, please." "Your hair is brown." "Your eyes are blue." Then encourage the child to tell you something the sunny way, even if it is only "Look at the cat."

If there are some new words to spell give the child an old newspaper and a pair of scissors and let her cut out the letters and form the words who, better, work, etc. This will impress the letters on the mind more than repeating them.

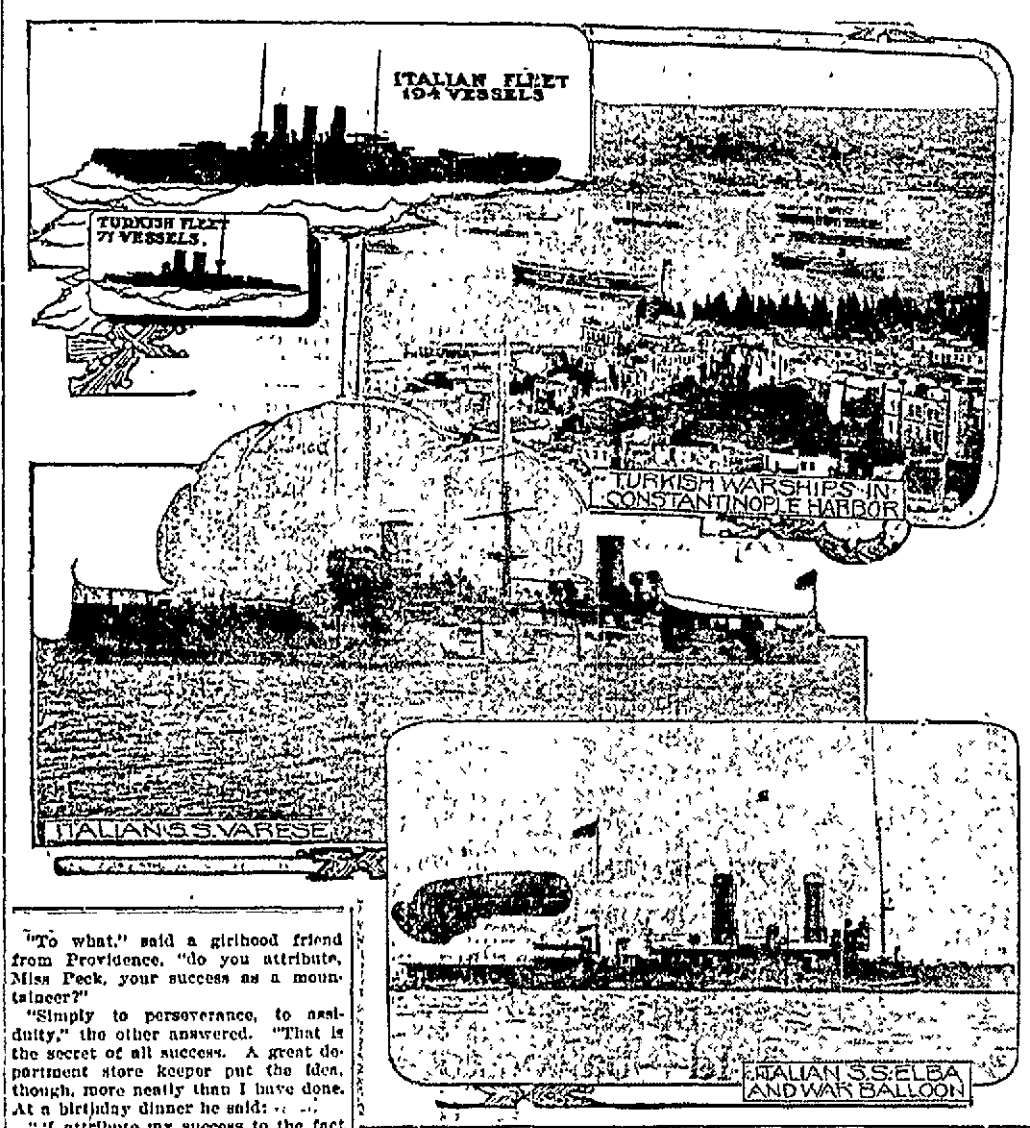

To tempt children to read rouse their curiosity by putting a picture in the middle of the sentence, as the (ant) went into a hole.

Tell a story and spell a word occasionally. As: Once there was a dear little (rabbit) and it had long (ears). It went for a little (walk) one day in the (field), etc.

Successful.

Miss Annie S. Peck, the famous mountaineer, was talking at a garden party in Boston about her contemplated climb in the Andes.

Vessels of Turkish Navy, S. S. Elba, Famous "Balloon Ship" of Italy, and the Italian Cruiser Varese.

Give the baby no medicine unless prescribed by the doctor.

Do not put warmer clothes on the baby in the summer time than you wear yourself.

Keep a window open night and day in the baby's room. Cold can come from closed windows, not from open ones.

If the baby does not gain weight see the doctor. Something is wrong.

Do not rock the baby to sleep. Put it down and let it cry itself to sleep.

Roll all milk before giving it to the baby.

If you cannot employ a doctor apply to the nearest police station.

Teaching Chivalry.

"My little boy has always been very chivalrous in his attitude toward me," said a mother recently. "This trait I make use of now when he comes from school saying, as most small boys do at one time or another, 'I don't like the teacher.' I talk about the large number of little boys the teacher has under her charge, how tired she must get, how much she needs strong, manly little boys to help her, and my son decides at once that he'd like to be a brave, strong knight to protect the teacher. He always goes back in a helpful frame of mind."

Hints for Hostesses.

When the luncheon guests are ladies exclusively the hostess leads the way to the dining room, where places are chosen at will or are fixed by dainty plate favors with the names inscribed on one side.

Many hostesses prepare for an informal musical and literary program following luncheon.

Black borders of equal width on stationery and cards are used by the widow as long as she wears mourning.

Postal cards are only proper for announcing meetings or the most important messages.

The hostess driving with another woman in a close carriage allows her guest to take the choice of seats by giving her precedence in entering the carriage.

Only the most delicate scent is allowed on a lady's stationery, and it is better to dispense with perfume in this line altogether. If used a sachet is introduced into the box in which the stationery is kept, the scent being the same as that affected by the owner.

HARRIET BECHER STOW—Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Born Fitchfield, Conn., June 14, 1811, died at Hartford, Conn., July 1, 1888.

Wife of Henry Ward Beecher. Married Calvin E. Stowe, a noted educator. Educated at Hartford and taught school there and at Cincinnati. She wrote many books, of which "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was by far the most famous. This first appeared in serial form in a Washington newspaper and attracted little attention. When published as a book, however, it almost immediately had a great vogue. A half million copies were sold in the United States in five years. No single modern novel has been so widely read or had so much influence. Many of her other novels concern New England life. She also wrote "Lady Byron Vindicated."

Those Italian Money Orders on The Banca di Napoli, guaranteed by the Italian Government, are certainly the safest and best way to send money to any point in Italy. You can get them at the Union Supply Company.

PRIMARY VOTE

IN SCOTSDALE.

Much Interest Taken in the Most of the Nominations.

BOYD CARRIED TOWN AGAIN

Some Surprises of a Local Nature in Nominating. For the Seven Members of the New School Board—Democrats Did Not Have Full Ticket.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Oct. 2.—The four primary election boards got through about 5 o'clock on Sunday morning, although the vote did not measure up to the full strength in town. The Republicans had most of their local ticket filled, but there were plenty of blanks in which the personally conducted humorists wrote in a name or so that lengthened the list and will make some trouble to weed out a candidate for the office named at the November election.

The Democrats had a much smaller ticket than the Republicans. There were two Socialist votes cast in the First Ward, the best they did in town, while two Prohibitionists registered their wish in the Third Ward. A Keystone ballot was cast in three wards each.

For Council the Republicans named J. R. Finckman in the First, Arthur D. Collins in the Second, W. W. Hines in the Third and both Republicans and Democrats endorsed Roy Baker in the Fourth ward.

Van Gaffney is the Democratic candidate for Council in the First ward, and J. J. Buttermore in the Third.

On the Republican ticket, for three school directors for six years, A. C. Overholt, A. O. Rush and Robert Skemp were nominated. For four years, Aaron Loucks and James L. Reynolds were nominated. For two years, A. L. Kelster and Jesse M. Sneed were nominated. For the Democrats for the six year term S. O. Steiner, Robert M. Young and J. P. Owens were nominated. J. L. Bell is one of their nominees for two year terms. A mixup of names with one or two candidates occurred on this ticket and will have to be settled by the proper officers. It is said, if names are to be put on for the fall elections.

Although a fight was put up against Beckey Boyd by the faction that has opposed him for years the local candidate for Treasurer came through sailing in his own town, leading D. P. Hudson his nearest opponent by 216 votes and Jesse Hancock the next nearest opponent by 257 votes. For Commissioner Lloyd Dick with 195 votes lead here, with J. E. Sholda second with 180 votes and J. G. McGary third with 117. The best anyone of the remaining 15 got was 81.

Has Relatives Among Victims.

A. J. Benson, manager of the Broadway drug store, fears that his father, mother and sister were drowned at his home at Austin, Pa., Saturday, when the big dam broke. As soon as he heard of the disaster Mr. Benson started for Austin in the death list printed in this morning's papers.

CROW CANDIDATES CARRY THIS CITY.

Opponent, Frankberry, who was but a single vote ahead of McDowell. The "Bloody Third" might have done better for Robinson but the Democrats there exhibited symptoms of "buck fever." The Democrats were so anxious to defeat Fred D. Munson as Republican inspector that they even forgot to vote for Hink Constable.

Carr easily led here for District Attorney and took had 70 more votes more than McCormick for Sheriff. Matthew J. Welsh ran fine for Commissioner, garnering 20 more votes than L. H. McClelland, the only two on the ticket with enough votes to get out of the "also ran" class. Korns led Reagan by 19 for Poor House Director. Opposition to the Crow candidates was not serious in any ward save the Sixth and Seventh. The only Cooper men who had a ghost of a chance were the home boys and it cannot be said that Connelville did not give her native sons a healthy vote. The ward workers for the most part kept their hands off the Connelville candidates except to add them where possible. There was no disorder of any kind about the polls and what rivalry there was proved generally good natured. In the Sixth there was a good bit of wrangling all afternoon, but no fights developed.

SICK HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, TORPID LIVER, CONSTIPATION--CASCARETS.

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous matter, instead of being thrown out, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, awful throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the poison move out and purifying the blood. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies, whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches, need not suffer, for they can be quickly cured by Cascarets. One taken tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box means a clear head and perfect health for months. Don't forget the children—then little ladies need a good, gentle, cleansing, too. Children gladly take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

Sunday School Workers Meet

Special to The Courier.

OWENSDALE, Oct. 3.—One of the most enthusiastic Sunday school conventions held in the 12th Sunday school district for many years was held at the Owensdale United Brethren Church, Saturday, commencing at 8:30 in the morning and ending at a close at 10 o'clock in the evening. These excellently carried out sessions, carried with them considerable weight and added momentum and fervor to the great work that is being done in this section. There was an excellent attendance at each session, all the roundabout country being represented, each charge in the district being represented by its officers or a delegate. The Willing Workers' Bible class served the visitors with both dinner and supper in the church.

The convention was opened up by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Fink, followed by an address by Rev. C. M. Haines on "How to Conduct Sunday School Finances." Rev. Haines' remarks on this subject was suggestive, showing how the Sunday school officers could conduct their finances so that at the close of the conference year they would not find themselves facing a deficit which they must hurriedly meet in order to show a good record at conference. Rev. Haines' remarks were followed by a discourse on "Missions in the Sunday School." At 11 o'clock there was a general discussion of the Sunday school work, after which the visiting church workers did justice to the sumptuous repast that was set before them.

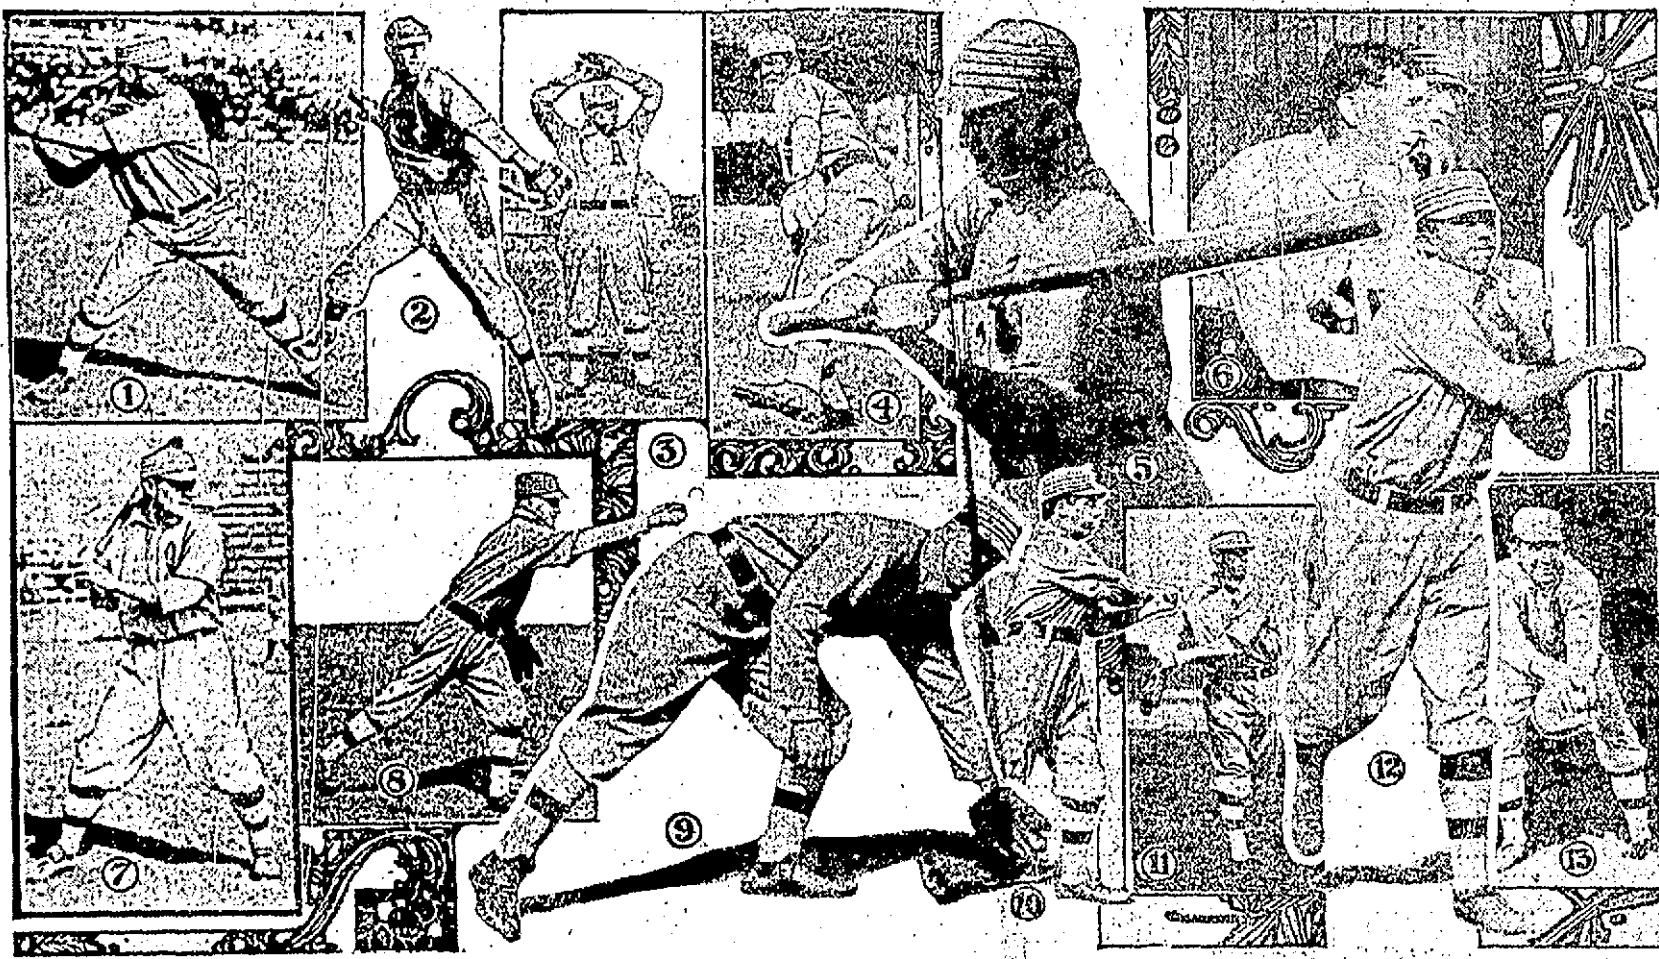

The afternoon session was opened up by Rev. Conway and following came the reports of the delegates and visiting officers. Rev. J. H. Keane, of the Fayette charge then fully discussed "The Advanced Division." "What Should the Sunday School Do

MINING CONDITIONS IN FOREIGN LANDS.

Erskine Ramsey, Old Coke Region Man, Talks Interestingly.

SUGGESTIONS WILL BE VALUABLE

Trip Was Made by Experts Under the Guidance of the United States Bureau of Mines—Laws Are More Stringent Abroad.

Conditions in the mining industry in foreign countries are not similar to those in the United States and especially in Alabama; but there was much to be seen by the party of American experts who made the trip to collieries in Europe under the guidance of the United States Bureau of Mines. George S. Rice, assistant to Dr. Holmes, was in charge. The trip promises to provide suggestions of value in this country.

Erskine Ramsey, an old time Connelleville region boy, formerly Chief Engineer of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway Company, now vice president of the Pratt Consolidated Coal Company of Birmingham, Ala., one of the leading mining experts in the country and the best known in the South, is back from a tour of the big mines of Europe.

England, Scotland, Wales, Belgium, France, Germany and Austria were visited. The trip was pleasant from start to finish, from a professional view, as well as socially. There were six members of the party, including Mr. Rice, and every courtesy was extended by the officials of the mines in foreign countries. The fact that the men comprising the party were experts and also that the trip was arranged and advised by the Bureau of Mines of the United States government, brought about attention on the part of the foreign officials that gave opportunity for a thorough study of conditions, of methods of operation and of machinery.

"The mines in Europe are considerably deeper than those in this country," said Mr. Ramsey, speaking of the technical discoveries. "There are no operations as we have here, right from the side of the hills. Then again the entrances to the mines are different; there is a more substantial condition of affairs in the operations; that is, the development at the beginning are along very substantial lines, permanent construction being in mind, which means that the corporations begin with a larger capitalization than ordinarily found here and also with a purpose of big development.

"There is some very modern machinery used in the mines. The mines are all deeper than here; then there are many seams of coal worked in each place, more than here. Then the mining operations are the long way, unlike our customs of working rooms and then pulling the pillars.

"The foreign method is to fill in as the coal is brought out, and other materials being taken in as the coal is brought out. This has a tendency to hold up the roof and provide against the frequent accidents.

"There are accidents happening from time to time in foreign mines just as in this country, despite the modern operations, and the extreme care that is taken to protect life and property. We visited one mine where a year and a half ago there was an explosion in which over a thousand men lost their lives.

"The mining laws in the foreign countries are a little more rigid than are ours. The officials of the mines were in position to show us everything and were willing to explain anything that we asked about.

"The substantiality of the mining operations struck me very forcibly. It showed the expectation of doing business for a long time and to develop on a big scale. The output is large, and the appliances employed are as modern as can be procured. Every precautionary method is employed, every attention being given to providing protection for the life and limb of employees as well as to care for the property."

Mr. Ramsey said that he met with a number of notables, including John Hays Hammond, in London. He said that the United States stands high in the opinion of the foreigners, and that the visit of the party was appreciated.

MACHINE MINING.

In the United States Last Year Increased.

The rapid progress made in recent years in the substitution of mechanical methods for hard manual labor in mining bituminous coal has been one of the most notable developments in the history of the industry. According to E. W. Parker, of the United States Geological Survey, 17,012,225 short tons, or 41.7 per cent, of the total output of bituminous and lignite coal, was mined by machines in 1910. This was an increase of 31,615,415 short tons over the amount so mined in 1909.

The number of machines operated in 1910 was 13,254. The use of machines not only makes the miners' task easier but, according to Mr. Parker, reduces the tendency, too prevalent in many coal mining districts, to "shoot from the solid," a practice that not only increases the liability to accident but produces an unmarketable quality. It is gratifying to note, says Mr. Parker, the steady increase in the proportion of coal mined by the use of machines, for it indicates a larger proportion of coal undercut before being shot down.

Deal in Coal Lands.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 2.—The United States Coal & Oil Company, which has extensive holdings in Holden, W. Va., has purchased 25,000 acres of undeveloped coal land in Blackberry Creek, in the eastern part of Kentucky, and the operations in this section promise to rival in importance those in Logan county. The development of this land will be started at once, and it is the intention to found a town, to be known as Blackberry City. The town will be located on a plateau nearly opposite the mouth of Blackberry Creek.

Stockholders Get Notice.

Stockholders of the Monacaheola River Coal Company who have not yet deposited their stock in accordance with the offer of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, have received letters notifying them that the time for complying with the terms ends on October 1 and urging them to make their deposits without delay.

To Open West Virginia Coal Mine.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 27.—The Davis Coal & Coke Company are arranging to open another mine at Dartmoor, W. Va.

IMPORTS OF COAL

To Southern Italy Over 9,000,000 Tons Last Year.

In commenting on the import of coal into Southern Italy, Consul William W. Handley, Naples, says in Daily Consular and Trade Reports:

"The enormous imports of coal into Italy each year, instead of diminishing through the introduction of water power machinery, are increasing, and Italy is today probably the best market in the Mediterranean for the sale of bituminous coal. When it is taken into consideration that 9,314,224 metric tons were imported during 1910, a substantial increase over the two previous years, the magnitude of the trade can be realized.

The United Kingdom holds the bulk of the trade and the United States a very small portion. Renowned freight rates from England and generally a return cargo from the Black Sea are important considerations in favor of British ships. From the American standpoint, I should think that arrangements for return freights would be one of the first and most important considerations in figuring on securing some of this business.

Recently American coal men were here investigating the possibilities of entering this field, and it is not improbable an attempt will soon be made to enter into competition with those who have controlled this enormous and lucrative business for many years.

Must Rebuild Bridges.

Examinations into the damage done the railroad tracks of the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Company at Sandy Creek, Penn. township, near Verona by Friday's storm show that the bridges will have to be reconstructed and until they are rebuilt the company's cars cannot be run to the mines of the Pennsylvania railroad. Pending the reconstruction of the bridges the mines will be closed.

New Ohio Company.

The Bear Creek Coal Mining Company was incorporated in Columbus, with capital stock of $500,000 at Warren, (O.) people. These people, it is stated, have obtained control of 3,000 acres of coal lands in Pike county, Kentucky, and will develop this tract, a colliery plant is to be established on the tract which is said to contain steam and cooling coal. C. B. Loveless is one of the incorporators.

Kentucky Coal Land Sold.

BARBOURSVILLE, Ky., Oct. 2.—The Interstate Coal Company has paid the Tye Fork Coal Company $50,000 for 800 acres in the Tye Fork district, Knox county. In addition to the acreage purchased outright, the Interstate company takes over about 800 acres additional in a leasing agreement. The purchasing company will soon begin the development of this property.

Would Open Coal Fields

SEWARD, Alaska, Sept. 27.—Gilford Pinchot, former chief forester of the United States, called for Corvova, whence he will go to the Berling river coal fields. Spending here last night, Mr. Pinchot said he believed the coal fields should be opened and that he believed Congress would act at the approaching session.

BALKED THE BURGLAR.

It May or May Not Have Been a Low Down Game, but It Won.

The man with his coat collar turned up and his derby pitched down over his eyes who was slouching along in the shadow of the building suddenly beckoned to the man on the other side of the street. "Here's an easy one, Pete," he growled husily.

"Where's an easy one?" snarled Pete. "This here house. It's like taking gum from a stenographer that's fixin' her hair. Some chump has gone away and left his latch key in this door."

Pete took a swift look at the house and began to back up. "You can go to it," he said. "I don't want to butt in on it."

"Are youse nutty?" "Naw, I ain't nutty. But de feller wot lives dere is a low down sneak without no feelin' fer nobody, an' I don't want nothin' ter do with him. No, I don't know him, but I'm next ter his game. He sticks that key in dere to letch sucklers like you. Dere's a werry on dat key an' a million werry hotter attached to dat wire. I wouldn't touch it if yer'd gimme de First National bank. But go ahead—[I] be acrost de street watchin' wot happens."

Nothing happened.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ancient Inkstands.

An inkstand that was probably in use 3,400 years ago is exhibited in a Berlin museum. It is of Egyptian make and is supposed to belong to the eighteenth or nineteenth dynasty, or somewhere about 1500 B. C., although its real age can be judged only approximately. It is made of wood and has two compartments, an upper one provided with two holes, one for black and one for red ink, and a lower one for holding reed pens. The black and red ink are certainly, for some still remains, in a dry condition, within the receptacles. Another ancient inkstand is supposed to have been intended for the use of a schoolboy. It would certainly hold ink enough for a schoolboy's needs, for it has no fewer than four ink holes. Both inkstands were found at Thebes.—London Globe.

STEEL TRUST

Being Organized to Do Business in Italy.

A compact between various companies for the constitution of an iron and steel trust has been finally signed, says the London Economist, and Italy will have, due to the exertions of the Director General of the Bank of Italy, a trust similar in extent and scope to the great iron combinations of Germany and the United States. The six companies, which already produce most of the iron and steel manufactured in Italy, the Siderurgica Savona, the Siderurgica Acciaieria Lombarda, the Siderurgica Italiana, the Siderurgica Metallurgica di Sestri, have agreed to confer upon the Iva Company, which has a newly erected establishment at Pozzuoli in the Gulf of Naples, the authority necessary to regulate all their respective establishments from July 1, 1911, to December 31, 1922.

From the net income of the trust will be deducted the following assignments: $336,000 to the Iva Company, in consideration of its financial claims; $336,000 to the Iva Company and $124,000 to the Siderurgica Acciaieria Lombarda, for other reasons, $124,000 to the Siderurgica Italiana and $124,000 to the Siderurgica Metallurgica di Sestri.

Why Dean Swift Didn't Go to Ascot.

Dean Swift was the earliest man of note to make mention of the historic Ascot race meeting. It is in one of his "Letters to Stella" in August, 1711, that the great Jonathan says he "saw a place they have made for a famous horse race tomorrow, when the queen will come." But being "tired with riding a trotting, mettlesome horse a dozen miles, having not been on horseback 'this twelve months,' Swift decided 'not to go to the race unless I might be hindered by a caller all the coaches were filled before he could reach one, and as a consequence the world lost the description of that earliest Ascot that only the author of "Gulliver's Travels" could have penned.—London Spectator.

Making It Clear.

Parson's daughter: "Good morning, Glee! Haven't noticed you in church for the last few weeks." Glee: "No, miss; I've been off at Noacastle a-visiting my old 'aunts. And strange, isn't it, I don't see no change in 'em since I was a child like?" Parson's daughter: "What wonderful old ladies they must be!" Glee: "I didn't say 'aunts,' miss; I said 'aunts'—aunts where I used to wander in my childhood days like!"

HIGH SCHOOL EASY WINNER SATURDAY.

Defeated Youngwood 22 to 0 in One Sided Contest Here.

GOOD EARLY-SEASON FORM

Hopes Are High That Boys Will Repeat Excellent Record of Last Season—To Rope off Field Next Saturday.

High School opened the 1911 football season in an auspicious manner Saturday afternoon defeating Youngwood 22 to 0. The team scored once in each four periods and not until the last quarter did Youngwood have a chance. With almost all the regulars out of the lineup in this period, High School went on defensive.

The eleven showed great early-season form. The men played together well and gave promise of developing great team-work. Captain McCormick had lots of ginger and kept the boys on their toes. The day was just cool enough for snappy play although the spectators along the sidelines shivered and chattered towards the close of the contest. There wasn't enough excitement in the contest to keep the spectators warm.

Port did some clever kicking while Bishop also got in a few good punts. Port made two goals from touchdown and missed two from bad angles. He missed a goal from field by three inches, the ball striking the cross-bar and going under instead of over. This was in the third quarter.

There was not much chance for individual play as the long runs were conspicuous for their absence. Jones and Port negotiated several hefty hikes through the opposing line. Jones anchored a forward pass and turned it into a touchdown. Sheets corralled a fumble and also scored.

The Connellsville line held like adamant most of the time. Lynn and Moore did some clever work at the tackles and it is a safe bet that there will be mighty few gains through them this season. Stafford, Hiet and Foley made the center of the line resemble the beef trust. McCormick needs no press agent as long as he plays the same in the bang up style as usual. His end was just about impregnable. Harper and Marshall gave a good account of themselves at the other end. The backfield showed class with Bishop, Port and Jones as the master ground gallopers. Pat Moser ran the team with true good judgment.

By next Saturday the team will be roped off and this will likely make the contests doubly interesting. It is impossible either to play good football or enjoy watching it when the spectators crowd the playing field and without ropes it is impossible to keep them off. When Mr. Pleasant comes next week a different story is promised. Saturday's lineup follows:

SCALES OF THE EEL.

They Are Very Minute and Resemble Herringbone Brickwork.

In the ordinary conception of the term the eel is a scaleless fish. But it is due to the fact that its scales are very minute and imbedded in the skin. They form, as pointed out by a correspondent, very interesting and beautiful objects for the microscope. In the scales of the eel vary from one-eighth of an inch upward, according to the age of the fish. They are formed of two layers of a clear, horny substance, the upper of which is studded with crystals of calcium carbonate. These are so transparent as to look like empty cells. The scales vary in shape from a blunt to an elongated oval and are sometimes almost kidney shaped.

This is how the scales of the eel tell its age. On each may be observed at intervals several more or less clearly marked lines parallel to the margin. These mark lines of growth, one for each year of the life of the fish. Three years, however, must be allowed for the innermost ring, as the eel has no scales until the third year. The scales do not overlap to any extent and are arranged in series of small groups at right angles to each other, so as to resemble what is known as herring bone brickwork. Copper eels, however, are said to have no scales.—London Field.

LANDS WITH 53 OSTRICHES.

Brought From Central Africa Notwithstanding Exportation Is Forbidden. Notwithstanding the facts of the governments of England, France and Germany that no ostriches shall be taken out of Africa, William H. Hiles, an ostrich farmer of Bloomsburg, Pa., brought fifty-three of the birds to Boston on the steamship Kanawha. Hiles left the United States a year ago. Going into the interior of Africa he soon had fifty-four birds gathered for him by the tribesmen, and they were secretly put on board the Kanawha at Jibuti. One ostrich died on the way across the Atlantic.

Advises. "Now that you've heard my daughter sing, what would you advise me to do?"

"Well," the music master replied, "I hardly know. Don't you suppose you could get her interested in settlement work or horseback riding or something like that?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

One of the most striking differences between a cat and a lion is that a cat has only nine lives.—Mark Twain.

The Wright-Metzler Company doesn't make statements that cannot be verified by facts and figures. Not only is ours the largest store but our stocks are nearly, or quite double, that of any other store in Connellsville.

The Right Coatings and Suitings are Scarce-- and Wanted.

We are told that Wright-Metzler's is the only store in town that shows to the women's dress goods the "real" kinds of fabrics that go into men's garments—about "men's wear" cloths. And we know it for a fact that some of the patterns we show can be had in Connellsville only at Wright-Metzler's. But we started out to write of dress goods to sell at $1.00 the yard. Fortunately, some "men's wear" cloth is included. To finish the first part of our story—an unexpected condition has arisen "in the trade" regarding coatings—they are scarce just when wanted! Happened this way: Stores didn't place orders with manufacturing tailors because uncertain as to styles; manufacturing tailors, in turn, didn't order from the mills—and the mills wouldn't make up the goods till orders justified doing so. Then came the demand—and a scarcity. Different at Wright-Metzler's—Our forecast was accurate and the assortments here offers choice in the newest sorts $1.00 to $3.00 the yd.

STORY OF 1804 DOLLAR.

Dr. J. M. Henderson Denies Forty Thousand Were Struck Off.

Dr. J. M. Henderson of Columbus, O., president of the American Numismatic association, tells what he says is the true story of the 1804 silver dollar, for which $3,000 was recently paid by W. E. Dunham of Chicago.

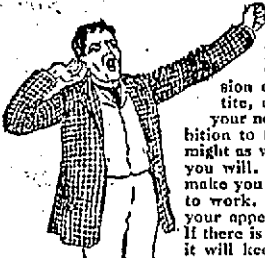

"It has been reported erroneously," said Dr. Henderson, "that 40,000 were struck off and sent to Morocco to pay American troops and that the vessel carrying them was lost."

"The dies for the 1804 dollars were made in 1803. Then the law was passed reducing the amount of silver to be put into dollars and the dies were never used. Matthew A. Stiebel of Salem, Mass., in 1842 induced the treasury officials to trade him an 1804 dollar from the original die for a very valuable coin he possessed. With this dollar a few more were struck, for we know of twelve in existence today."
